Transport system for 30 fences

An ingenious transport system for storage and transportation, ideal for any climate

Usability for any climate is paramount with this container. Due to the holes this is the best solution for storing or transporting fences in any type of climate. The temporary fences are safely and easily distributed over the site. It is possible to transport the container in both length and width. An inventory can be made quickly when the construction fences are returned. The containers can be safely stacked during storage.
